ROAD RANGER ANNOUNCES NEW TRAVEL CENTER IN FENTON, MO

St Louis, Missouri April 18, 2006 - Road Ranger, L.L.C., is on the move again and is proud to announce its second travel center in Missouri located at 205 North Highway Drive on I-44 near St. Louis in Fenton, Missouri. Previously occupied by the St. Louis Truck Port, Road Ranger officially began new construction in March and is on schedule for a June 2006 opening.

Strategically located near I-270, the new full-featured travel plaza will celebrate its grand opening in July 2006. This expansive travel plaza will showcase a service area for gasoline, diesel lanes, a Ranger gift shop, CAT scales, our award winning coffee as well as ALL the amenities the professional driver has come to expect from Road Ranger. In addition, this location will include a Subway sandwich shop, a recognized favorite of our drivers. These amenities are a perfect fit with Road Ranger's four-wheel friendly offerings and Fenton, MO, the "City of Parks."

A quick look at the truck stop arena shows that Road Ranger will be the only travel plaza in the Fenton metro market. This key property is located in the vicinity of Chrysler's largest plant outside of Michigan.

Road Ranger's continued success of forty-eight stores – and growing – is in large part due to its excellent customer service and lowest total cost. "At Road Ranger we watch the pricing so the customer doesn't have to," stated Anna Ciciora, CEO of Road Ranger, L.L.C. "As far as convenience stores and truck stops go, Road Ranger is committed to being your local partner with the lowest total price."
